LIGHTING A CANDLE

Like many people I thought I knew what poverty was. Knew about people living in poor housing on notorious estates, having low paid or no work, struggling with too little money and too much debt. Then I went, as a helper, on my first 'Send a Child' week and realised I knew nothing about real poverty. Yes, it was those obvious things that I have mentioned but they were in many ways the lesser problems of poverty and the easiest to solve if the will was there.

Poverty has many faces. As well as poverty in living standards there is emotional poverty where children live in a family where members have lost the capacity to care about themselves much less each other. The children may not suffer actual abuse, though sometimes they do, but they suffer emotional neglect, and so live in emotional poverty. Often the care they receive is far less than they need and so they do not learn good parenting skills, meaning that their experience of emotional poverty will probably blight the next generation as well.

There is also educational poverty. Often the children have parents who do not see the value of education and so do not encourage their children to learn. They live in homes without books and no one bothers if they truant from school. There are still today children who cannot go to school because they have no shoes to wear.

These children are like all children, acutely aware, sensitive, and inquisitive and they are all too conscious of the difference between other children's lives and their own. Too often they encounter prejudice because of their poverty and are treated as children of a lesser God and their sense of self-worth drops below the poverty line.

Finally and perhaps the most terrible poverty of all, is the poverty of hope. All their experience tells them not to hope for a good job, a nice house, a car, or holidays when they grow up. Finding a way out of poverty is extremely difficult and requires huge effort and determination. Statistics suggest the most likely scenario for these children is that they too will spend their lives without the things that most people see as essential.

What does the 'Send a Child to Hucklow Fund' do? It provides children from deprived circumstances with a holiday, five days away from the day to day grind of living without many of the things that our children and grandchildren take for granted. It provides a warm clean bed for each child, hot showers (these are not always appreciated). There is good food and plenty of it. They meet adults who are kind and they do things they could only dream about such as ice skating and horse riding. They have a glimpse of life that is not stunted by poverty. It may be that it is only a holiday or it could be that those five days give the children more than just respite in a nice place with caring people, it could lift them above the poverty line of hope. And if it only inspires one or two with the determination to break out of the trap of poverty then it has achieved a great success.

So often when faced with a huge problem, such as poverty, people throw up their hands and say 'what can I do?'

There is a saying, 'better to light a candle than curse the darkness'. The 'Send a Child to Hucklow Fund' lights a candle for hundreds of children.

Help them to continue to do so.

This year is the 50th Anniversary of the 'Send a Child to Hucklow Fund' They are trying to raise £50,000 in their anniversary year. Like all organisations their returns on trust monies has been affected by the financial crisis. They have launched this special appeal to protect capital investments and bolster income so that they do not need to turn away children. £50,000 represents a donation of about £10 for each person in the denomination.

There will be a retiring collection for the appeal after the Children's Prize Giving Service on 8th January 2011

COFFEE MORNING AND AFTERNOON TEA

On Wednesday 11th January there will be Morning Coffee 10.30am to Noon and Afternoon Tea 2pm to 4pm at the Parson's house for the Send A Child to Hucklow 50th Year Appeal. Please see the notice on the board for details

MINISTER'S MONTH

In my diary it appears that there have been three important events over the last month. The first of these was the Bank Street Bazaar. A great deal of hard work by everyone brought about an excellent financial result and as this is our major fund-raiser we should be very pleased. It also and perhaps more importantly brings everyone together in a common cause and binds us as a community working together.

Though I am putting them together there were actually two services of remembrance. On Armistice Day itself a short, simple act of Remembrance was held, led by Anne Mills. It is the first time this has happened but judging by the response will probably become an annual event. The Remembrance Sunday service itself brought many tears as the stories of servicemen from conflicts spanning almost a century were read. For me this is always an important and moving service and I find myself struggling with the lump in my throat when reading the long list of those who died from our three churches.

The after the service we gathered for a congregational photograph in the worship area. It is sixteen years since the last photograph of this kind was taken, a copy of which is in the vestry. As I write this we are still waiting to see what we look like sixteen years on.

This time last year we had just agreed to becoming interim minister for six months. I did not know what 2011 would bring and approached it with both hope and apprehension. Looking back it has been the best of years and I have to thank each and every one of you for that. This year of ministry has been, for me, challenging and rewarding and a true joy. I hope I have managed to be something of the minister you wanted. If I were younger you would need a corkscrew to lever me out of your pulpit.

Now may I wish you all a very happy Christmas and a New Year that is all you hope for.

SEMINARS BASED ON THE 'ETHICS' COURSE

Beginning in January I hope to run a series of seminars for which the official title is Ethics but which has the unofficial title, 'Sharing thoughts on moral dilemmas using personal moral principles'.

Each week a different ethical problem will be discussed and explored. These problems do not have 'right' answers but a number of possible solutions with ethical implications.

The day for the meetings will be decided with members of the group.

If you wish to take part please sign the list on the board.

TRADCRAFT

The stall will be open on December 4th, 11th and 18th, and on January 15th and 30th. Because of Christmas and New Year, this means quite a long gap between mid-December and mid-January. During this time, please ask me if you need any items.

DELEGATES FOR THE G.A. ANNUAL GENERAL MEETINGS IN 2012

At the time of writing, we have not yet received many details from Essex Hall about next year's Annual General Meetings. However, we will need to appoint 2 delegates, fairly soon, as application-forms need to be returned by the end of January. If you are interested in representing our church, please speak to Anne Mills.

Next year's Meetings will be held at the University of Keele, between April 3rd and 6th.

FISH AND CHIP BABIES

Roger and I visited Kendal, on October 30th, when the service was conducted by members of the Build Your Own Theology Group. It was quite different in content from our own BYOT service, but just as interesting to learn of members' ideas, feelings and aspirations.

We were intrigued to note that one section of the pews was covered in brightly-coloured knitted items. When we asked about these, we were told that they were vests for the Fish and Chip babies. These are babies, in Africa, often born HIV+ or suffering from Aids; there is nothing to wrap them in, except newspaper, hence the name. The vests had been knitted by church-members, in a variety of bright colours---necessary because these garments will probably never be washed!

I have a pattern, for a very simple, one-piece vest, and can supply copies, if anyone is interested. In the New Year, we hope to arrange an evening to launch our Fish and Chip vest initiative, with a view to sending out a consignment, in due course. If you feel able to participate, watch this space!

INDUCTION OF THE REV. DR. VERNON MARSHALL

This took place, at Stand Unitarian Chapel, on November 19th, 2011, and was attended by a small group from our church. The Presiding Minister was Rev. Celia Cartwright, and Rev. Dr. Ann Peart, the current President, brought greetings from the General Assembly.

Rev. Lynne Readett gave the Charge to the Congregations of Stand and Unity, reminding the whole congregation that all ministers must maintain a fine balance in the work they do, between the various demands made of them. These sentiments were endorsed by Rev. Ernest Baker, who, in giving the Charge to the Minister, reminded everyone of the difficulty of conducting a successful ministry, yet stressed how worthwhile such a ministry would be. The Ceremony of Induction was then completed by Vernon and the two Chairs of the Congregations shaking hands, in Fellowship and Greetings; the Congregations pledged their support, whilst Vernon promised to serve them with integrity and truth.

The afternoon ended with an excellent tea and an opportunity to exchange greetings with fellow-Unitarians from many other churches and areas.

SUNSHINE PENNIES

Please could Brenda Ainsworth receive Sunshine Pennies by Sunday 11th December. THANK YOU.

THE FUTURE.....!!!

Starting next year (January 1st 2012) Sunshine Pennies will become Sunshine Smarties. Please collect your free tube of Smarties from Brenda Ainsworth and sign the pledge to donate a 20p piece every time we have a sunny day. Return the tubes to Brenda when the tubes are filled with 20p pieces and collect another free tube. For each full tube returned, the children will colour and add another sun to a chart on the wall in the primary.

I hope as many people as possible will take a free Smartie tube because we need to raise as much money as possible during 2012 to support our church. Our aim is to collect 40 filled tubes in order to raise about £600.

Brenda Ainsworth

CONDOLENCES

The congregation extends sincere condolences to Les and Doreen on the death of Les's son Paul. You are both in our thoughts and prayers.

THANKS

It's once again time to express our appreciation for the generous gifts and support given for Raffle Prizes at the Bazaar and events held during the past year. A very sincere 'thank you' from Muriel Smith and June Clark.

NOTICE FROM OUR MEMBERSHIP SECRETARY

The Subscription Envelopes for 2012 will be available for collection from the table in the foyer from Sunday, 4 December. As your Membership Number may have changed, please destroy any unused envelopes for 2011 at the end of the year. If you wish to make up any contributions please include them in your first envelope for 2012, Thank you.

Margaret Pollard

100 CLUB

We have had a successful year again with prizes well-spread out. The draw for the extra Christmas Prize of £75 will take place on December 4 and the monthly draw for £25 on Sunday 18 December. The list of lucky winners during 2011 will appear in the February Calendar.

The bad news is that the yearly subscription becomes due in January 2012. Please let me have your donation of £12 per number sometime during January or February. The new year will begin with the March Draw. Half of your subscription goes to Church Funds and if you have elected for the 'Gift Aid' scheme the £6 rises to £9.36!!

We still have plenty of blank numbers, so if you could choose an extra number or persuade your friends to take a number it would be greatly appreciated.

On behalf of the church I thank you for your continued support.
